However like a good garden everything blooms in its own good time. Shavo is smarter than Einstein? Time isn't variable willy-nilly.

Einstein explicitly admitted it in his Leyden Address. University of Minnesota

Against this background, it is intriguing to reflect on how the passage of time and the advent of new modes of delivery in the digital age have transformed their original use value as immediate records, rather than historical artefacts. The vast majority of calculations made about our universe start with this assumption: For now, cosmology is safe. You either trust them or you don't.
